

Dear Vikki

Dec 12

Well love I hope things are going good there with you. I am doing fine here so don't worry ok. I wrote a poem for you. I thought it up myself ok it has my true feelings in it. I don't really have all that much to say. I tried to get a call to you but the guy here said now that you come to visit I can't call so often. I hope you understand I tried. So you are still planning to get married I was happy to hear that it put alot of things in my mind at ease. I wrote you a letter three days ago and the only one I got from you was the one that was in the mail during the strike so I expect to get one soon don't let me down. at first I thought writing was a drag but now I know it is just like talking to a person. That is why I would like to here from you. because when I read your letters it is just like hearing you say the words. I love you very much and I intend to marry you upon my release in December '76 it is not really that far away especially when there are guys here doing twenty. I just think about it and I feel good to know that you or I never got fucked ~~to~~ like that. We just got a short time in just enough to let us know who are friends are on the street and who to trust and who not to trust. I trust you with my life and I know you can trust me with yours. I would like to know how to express my love for you because there is lots of love there I don't know how to say it in words I feel stupid and I just can't think of things to say. I would really like to know and be able say some of the things I say I guess it is because of the way I lived my life in the past I always had to be tougher then the other person to come out ahead I know you can understand if anyone can. I really need you and want you but we will be together soon so just stay cool and don't get in trouble so that you can get out as soon as possible ok love so I guess I will let you go for now ok. I love you
