

Hi brother.

This will be the last letter I write to you. Once again you let me down. I phoned your mother tonight to make sure that everybody will be in court for you & to see if the lawyer called & she informs me that you asked for Dougi to be in court. Thank for the set-up, what if

I decided at the last minute to go. Thank a lot. I'm glad to see that Dougi still comes first & me last. You really don't give a fuck about me, now I know. Keep your fucking precious Dougi for all I care. I don't need you now or ever. Stay with your fucking friends, giving your mother some lie as usual 'bout a gut testifying. Bullshit. Nobody is testifying & you fucking know it, I noticed all the good things Dougi did for you, like writing to you, paying the lawyer, looking after me & you bullshit me, oh yeah I'm sorry Dougi did this, to you I'll get him. HA HA very funny. So take care of yourself I'm glad that ^{you} found out how much you love me by trying to set me up.

Thank again for making me wait all this time & then breaking my heart.
Goodbye.

One who did love you & probably you'll never be able to replace me.

P.S. I even got 5090 to court that's how much I wanted you →
