

The love,

Well there is no mail delivery tomorrow so I guess I will not get any letters tomorrow & I didn't get one today, I was disappointed but it would never stop me from writing. I love you very much & really miss you, I know I won't be able to sleep the night before I know I will be able to visit again. I ly here & look at your photo a lot, you're so cute.

I just finished writing to my brother Chris, he's doing just great down in Van.

So this work week is going fast, 'cos its only a 4 day week, it feels good!!

I got a letter from Roman finally today its was a nasty letter, I will bring it up to you, he says he wants 10 g's for legal fees from you & he'd better not be shafted. Anyhow I will bring it up for you to read when I see you again & until then I won't answer it as I really don't know what to say. I'm wondering if Roman really threw out your letter to him. Anyhow well talk about it in person not letters o.k. love?

So I got a letter from Red yesterday & will be answering soon. He said he heard about the trouble up there & some of the guys were transferred there, he said he wished you came. He also said to say "hi & be good & take care cause he hopes to see you in good shape in the future".

Well not much else is happening, I just washed my hair & packed 2 boxes, I'm really looking forward to moving, not to the work part but the peace & quiet afterwards. Nobody is getting the address or phone number that's for sure & I hope you feel that way when you get out 'cos it will make me super happy honey.

So take care love & I'll write on the weekends. I love you remember that, you'll always have me to come home to & I hope that's all you want 'cos it's all I want, just you in my arms?

I love you
